COUNCIL DWELLS ON MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Of the Local Lighting System—Plenty of Business on Hand but Little Accomplished

Tempe's town council spent four busy hours at its monthly meeting Thursday evening, attempting to rid itself of a quantity of routine matters, and indulging in lengthy discussions on several problems of a more important nature, mainly that of the proposed municipal ownership of the town's electric power and lighting system. A half dozen or more individuals were present at the meeting representing themselves, other individuals and corporations for one purpose or another. The chief item of the evening was the lighting system and over this the council dwelt for a couple hours. H. L. Chandler, representing the Southside Gas & Electric company, was present, as was also Engineer Yates of the reclamation service who is dicker with the town aldermen for the estimation work to be made on the preliminary work for the system. Both of these electrically inclined gentlemen spoke to the council at length from their respective viewpoints. Eventually an aldermanic committee was appointed to continue with the preliminary work and if it sees fit, to employ the service of an electrical engineer. Estimates are to be taken both on the construction of an entirely new lighting system complete and on the worth of the present Southside Gas & Electric Light company system.

Bills were paid and other routine matters were pretty well settled up by the council during the early part of the session.

Several petitions, backed by the presence of a few of their signers, were presented to the council who in turn referred them to the respective committees. One called for the opening of a road extending along the southern boundary of the corporate limits of Tempe and extending one mile east connecting with the western extension of Mesa Main street. This same proposition has been presented to the council several times during past years, and while no doubt of the betterment of travel to be gained by the opening, there has always been a hitch in proceedings too difficult to overcome. The second petition asked the town to take charge of the irrigating system in Goldman addition.

TONIGHT'S MOVIES

"The Silver Loving Cup", produced by Lash Baird & Co., is the two reel attraction at the Goodwin Airdome this evening. "The Double Cross", a real old time Frontier comedy, and "Lizzie and the Ice Man", a farce comedy featuring Pearl White, completes the program.

A BUSY PASTOR

Rev. R. E. Dunlap, pastor of the Christian church of Tempe returned Thursday evening from a visit to southern Arizona, in the interest of his denomination. At Bowie he spent several days, looking over the field for the creation of a new Christian church. It was quite a surprise he met with too, for in that little community he found proportionately a good many more members of the church he represented than of other denominations. It is Mr. Dunlap's hopes, that work on the construction of a tabernacle may be started at Bowie by the middle of August. Mr. Dunlap also paid visits to a number of the communities in the Sulphur Springs valley, here too finding comparatively a large number of Christian church members. Tomorrow he will fill the pulpit of his church at Buckeye leaving the work of the union services to the remaining pastors in Tempe.

Tempe, Thursday evening laden with good news concerning the latest developments on the claims. For some time Mr. Smith has had a force of men at work on the drills by way of experimenting. Up to noon Thursday a depth of five hundred and fifty-two feet had been reached. Samples taken as the depths increase grow continually richer giving the operators every reason to believe that the seven hundred foot level will furnish them with all the indications necessary to start active mining. Mr. Smith expects to see such a point reached within the next ten days or two weeks.

BRIDGES ARE OPENED

The Tempe and Mesa road is open to the public once more across the Twin canals, after being closed for nearly two months to permit the construction of two new concrete bridges. The new structures are great improvements to the highway placing it from the turn a mile southeast of the Pacific Creamery clear through to Mesa in extra good shape for travel at this time of the year. Mesa and Tempe travelers or vice-versa will herald the return of the old road to usage with gladness after routing their trips for a couple months over the somewhat rougher road either to the north or south of the Mesa main street extension.

CANTALOUPE BRING SUBSTANTIAL PRICES

First Car Shipped from Mesa Finds Good Demand on Chicago Market. Outlook Good

The first carload of cantaloupes that was shipped out of Mesa, by Messrs. C. H. Weaver Co. and Messrs. Gerard & Co., jointly, has arrived in Chicago in fine shape and the melons have been marketed. The returns from the first carload are indicative of the prices throughout and cantaloupe growers have been anxiously awaiting to hear how prices ranged, as previously there has been no market established for Arizona, this being the tail end of the California season. Chicago dealers wire that the prices were high and a good market is promised straight through the season.

Right at the start, Jumbos brought $2.50, standards $2.00 and ponies $2.25 per crate and this means that growers will net on an average of $1.00 per crate for their melons. This also means that some thousands of dollars of real profit will be realized from this season's crop of cantaloupes and will be paid to ranchers right here in and around Mesa. The quality of the fruit raised here is superior to that of California and a better price is generally maintained. Despite the fact that the large acreage planted will not yield as great a crop as it should, because of the failure of melons to get set on the stems, the estimate of 350 carloads of cantaloupes out of Mesa will be realized, according to the opinion of experts. Had the melons not had some set back in the fields, the crop would probably have exceeded this by a hundred cars or more. As it is, the outlook is good and with prices averaging around $2.50 a crate, there will be little cause for complaint.

Harvesting the crop, picking, packing, etc., and getting down to the depot is keeping some hands busy. In fact the shipments will run about twenty to twenty-five cars a day for the rest of the season.

HIGLEY SCHOOL PICNIC

The Higley Union Sunday school had a picnic on the desert near the Harry Tice homestead Thursday night and a royal good time was had. There were over sixty-five present and everybody was in the right spirit for the occasion. Several went over from Phoenix just to see what a good time the Higley school can have. The picnic supper served was one of the best that has been enjoyed in some time.

HE'S HOMESICK

There's no place like Mesa, even way back in Arkansas. That's what T. L. Landsdale has to say about it. He left here in early June and went to Arkansas to spend three months. He writes Mr. Burrows that it has been raining there for weeks. It is blue and cloudy all the time and he wants to come back here to Arizona where the sun shines and it "ain't" so hot. He may cut short his intended vacation.

OPEN AND SHUT AGAIN

Auto drivers between Mesa and Phoenix have been going all around the country to get from here to Tempe and vice versa. Work has been in progress for some weeks in an endeavor to put the "last mile" of the road before the bend in it, passable shape, including the erection of a couple of bridges. Friday morning, arrivals in Mesa reported that the road had been opened and there was much rejoicing. But the sad part of the tale comes here—the road supervisor heard of it and the vent and put up the obstructions again and "closed" the road. He will give due notice of a real opening of the road.

HOMES BURNED TO THE GROUND
Fire, caused by a defective fuse, resulted Friday just after noon in the total destruction of the home of J. L. McLaughlin, who lives five miles out of Mesa in the WPA section. The house was a frame building, and when the flames once communicated to the dry roof from the kitchen stove there was no chance to save either the house or any of its contents.

CANTALOUPE MEN TO GLENDALE

Fred Hilvert, a representative of the S. A. Gerard & Co., cantaloupe commission men, went over to Glendale Friday looking over the situation in that section and on business connected with his company.

BACK FROM STATE HOSPITAL

Miss Amelia Berrue returned home Friday from the state hospital at Phoenix, where she has been detained for several months. Miss Berrue is the daughter of Mrs. E. E. Berrue, who assumes responsibility for her daughter's health. The hospital physician informed the governor, who was appealed to, that she was apparently well and restored to normal health. Justice Geo. S. Irvin and Officers Peyton and Burton, Dr. Brack, and Messrs. A. N. Smith and Pomeroy, appealed to the governor Friday morning in the girl's behalf and asked her release from the state hospital.

NO BAND CONCERT

There will be no concert by the band tonight, as many of the members are all busily engaged in the cantaloupe patch.

PERSONALS

Messrs. A. N. Smith and M. J. Dougherty spent Friday in Phoenix. Messrs. L. W. Stillwell, Omer McCollough, L. W. Stillwell, Jr., and Dr. Chas. Shouse, motored over to Phoenix Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fitzgerald are spending a few days in Phoenix. Mr. J. R. Pressley was a business visitor to the capital Friday.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

A meeting of the town council was held Thursday night, presided over by Alderman Robert Scott, acting mayor. Certain matters left over from the regular session were up for consideration and acted upon. An ordinance to take the place of a former one was passed regulating the street tax and making it conform to the state laws. A penalty for delinquent tax paying was also established. The most important action taken, in that it is indicative of the city growth, was the passing of an ordinance requiring property owners to properly number their houses within the next thirty days. The action is taken preliminary to application to the postoffice department for free mail delivery.

UNIQUE ADVERTISING STUNT

The Lescur-Spillsbury Company put on a pretty clever advertising stunt Friday morning and sold not only many yards of gingham and calico, but other things as well. Thursday afternoon representatives of the company distributed market baskets about town with the information printed and pasted on the basket, that the holder of the basket would be able to procure ten yards of gingham at exactly half price by taking the basket to the store on Friday morning. But the advertising matter on the basket had to be retained. The store did a big business Friday for the reporter saw many well filled market baskets on the streets of the city.

OFF FOR THE MOUNTAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Weekes, Mr. M. L. North and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pattee and son, Harold, left today for the White Mountains, to be absent for five or six weeks. They took three two-horse wagons loaded with supplies and one automobile for emergencies. They are fully equipped with hunting license, gun, and fishing tackle, and it is safe to say that they will not overlook any game not protected by law. Grizzly and cinnamon bear are Mr. Weekes' special favorites, and if he has good luck will return during the fall with a pair roped to the rear of his wagon. Mr. North claims to be the champion fisherman and will relate a few anecdotes of more than usual interest on his return. Mr. Pattee will act as referee in all contests of skill between the hunters and disciples of Isaac Walton, and during his leisure moments will make a scientific study of the fauna and flora of the White Mountains. There are a number of wealthy newspaper correspondents in Mesa who regret that strict attention to business prevents them from being eye witnesses of the feats of the mighty hunters and piscatorial experts of the party.
